Attention Grabbers

Spend a day or a week paying close attention to unusual incidents the ECK brings you. Things happen as the ECK guides you to take a step, to make something work out right. Anything that grabs your attention may be an aspect of the Golden-tongued Wisdom. Working with this is just a matter of awareness.

Sometimes the ECK gives you warnings. An alarm going off, for instance, might not be for the most apparent reason. It could be the ECK signaling you to be alert, be aware, be on the lookout for other things. Even a sudden birdcall may be a hint that you should be careful, hurry up, or pay attention.

The worlds of ECK in the lower regions interlock like puzzle pieces. With expanded awareness, you are able to take in more and more of these interlocking worlds of ECK, so that when something happens to you or around you, you know how it fits in and what it means to you.
